

General rules:

1. No use of any reference material to include websites or books. That’s primarily why we’ll read questions quickly – if you stop to look up one answer, you’ll probably miss hearing the next two questions...
2. Our prizes are not valuable enough to compromise your ethics!
3. Spelling counts!
4. When we ask for a person’s name, the individual’s surname will be sufficient.
5. There will be five rounds, ten questions each, and the questions will get more difficult as we progress.
6. The fifth question in each round has multiple answers, worth 1 point each (maximum 5 points).
7. The final question in each round is worth TWO points:
 - a. Use the Zoom “chat” function to send your answer to “all panelists.”
 - b. Format of your answer must be precise, and your answer must be spelled correctly.
 - i. [Your surname]; [Answer]; append “student” if you are currently enrolled or within 6 months of degree conferral (at any level from AA/AS to Post-doctoral).
 - ii. Example: Johnson; Branta canadensis [italics optional]; student [if applicable]
 - c. The moderator will announce that the “xth correct answer will win a t-shirt, and he yth correct answer will win a gift card (or vice versa). If either of those two individuals is a current student, the first of those two will also receive a book; if the two specified individuals are not current students, a book will be awarded to the first correct answer from a student after “y.”
 - d. All answers must be submitted within 90 seconds after the moderator completes reading.
 - e. Prizes will only be awarded to registered Annual Meeting participants.
